GP and Emergency Supports

The supports offered by various agencies listed above and overleaf are for children and young people who are feeling worried or anxious about their mental health. Help also continues to be available through your GP or health centres, or hospital emergency services, where needed, as detailed below.

GP and health centres

- A GP can offer support and advice around a range of mental health issues including feelings of sadness, anxiety, self-harm and psychosis. A GP can tell you about supports in your community and also refer you to counselling or to a mental health service
- Find a service near you on the HSE website:
- www2.hse.ie/services/find-a-gp/
- Or contact the Out of Hours service by searching here:
